Sheriff Deal Brings Back Check Forger For Trial

On October 22 last year two local business places cashed two checks—one for $14 and the other for $10. They were signed "Fred C. Dasher" and made payable to James Collins.

They looked o. k. And then the bad news. They were returned by the banks to our two business houses marked "unpaid"—"no account" and "NG."

In short, the checks were forged.

And only recently Stothard Deal, sheriff, made a trip to Madison, Florida, and returned with the confessed forger, who is now being held for trial in Bulloch County.

When it was discovered that the checks were forged, they turned over to Sheriff Deal, who forwarded them to the fraudulent check department of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, where they were filed.

When Sheriff Deal brought his man, signed himself as "Fred C. Dasher" had found their way in to the fraudulent checks files of the FBI.

Dr. Little Tells of Education Needs

Dr. Thomas C. Little, director of Teachers College Laboratory School, in talking to the Statesboro Rotary Club Monday, stated that Georgia is now feeling the impact of the Minimum Foundation Educational Programs of Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, and other states.

He explained that these states are offering more and more attractive positions to teachers, thus drawing them out of Georgia.

He emphasized the need of a Minimum Foundation program for this state. He defined the proposed program as outlined by educators in Georgia. He stated it would provide the state with competent teachers; well-designed, well-equipped, well-lighted classrooms for the students; safe buses, with safe drivers, on well thought out routes; adequate teaching aids—libraries, working materials, etc.; and it will offer opportunities for 12 months, providing recreation, summer camps, etc.

He suggested possible means of financing the Minimum Foundation Educational Program for Georgia, but pointed out that he would be happy to leave that to the ways and means committee.

Local Horses Win Many Places In Horse Show

J. E. Foy, riding his horse, "My Bet," won top honors both nights in the walking horse class. He was given a trophy and won $65 in prize money.

Si Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Waters, won two classes and a second place in another. On Thursday night he won the juvenile five gaited class, riding "Sweet Talk" and placed second in the five gaited model class. On Friday night he won the juvenile five gaited class, riding the same horse.

Lannie F. Simmons placed third in the local five gaited class, riding "Buddy."

On Friday night Barbara Ann Jones, riding "Pat," won fourth place in the pleasure class. Lynn Smith, riding "Black Sable," placed fifth, and Robbie Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lehman Franklin, won sixth place, riding "Prince." Young Franklin and Young Boyd were the youngest riders in the show.

These local horsemen were competing with horsemen and horsewomen from several states.

D. C. Ball, manager of the Savannah branch of the International Harvester Company, has been named chairman of the Coastal Empire Council, Boy Scouts of America county-wide finance campaign. The campaign will begin November 1 in the 13 counties of the council, including Bulloch.

A HOLE IN THE GROUND

This "hole in the ground" represents the unfinished Swimming Pool. We are leaving it here as a constant reminder of our need to complete this project for the young people of this community.

Robbing Peter to Pay Paul

TEN YEARS AGO—1938—a small library was provided for the grammar school children. It was set up in the old office of the grammar school principal, where for three years it grew slowly until 600 books were on its shelves.

In 1941 the high school librarian visualized a library which was in the next few years to grow into one of the finest grammar school libraries in the state, with more than 2,000 volumes.

Using funds realized from the proceeds of sales of candies and soft drinks in the school's "Little Store," the library in 1941, moved into a room which had for years been the "junk room." Devoting her personal time and doing much of the work, the librarian converted the junk room into an attractive library, serving a real need of the children in the lower grades of our school.

And then in a tidal of first year children the Grammar School Library was engulfed and ten years of work was washed away in the ripple.

Ninety children entered the first grade this month.

And no place to put one third of them!

"There's the grammar school library," someone suggested.

And, so, more than 2,000 books, in their shelves, were turned with their faces to the walls and space made available for the largest first grade in the history of the school. Three sections.

Already an oversized fifth grade in three sections.

Watch These Racketeers

HAVE YOU BEEN MADE A VICTIM of the septic tank cleaning racket which is spreading over Georgia?

According to our county health commissioner, Dr. W. D. Lundquist, very clever men are convincing home owners who have septic tanks for sewage disposal systems that their tanks should be cleaned out at regular intervals.

These "racketeers" are claiming that they represent the State Health Department and that there is a state law which requires that tanks be cleaned regularly.

These claims are false. There is no such law. The Health Department does not employ such men.

Dr. Lundquist stated that it is advisable that your septic tank be left alone and never cleaned out unless it should give you trouble.

If your tank should give you trouble, consult a plumber of your local health department before permitting work of any kind to be done on it.

For the layman, Dr. Lundquist explains the action which operates in a septic tank. He says:

"The septic action in septic tanks is the process which breaks down solids into minerals and gases. Such septic action is not efficient in a tank that has been cleaned out, and such cleaning will oftentimes cause more trouble in the system than if left alone. A properly installed septic tank and drain field should give 10 to 20 years of trouble-free service if all pipe lines remain open."

Stay alert—if a smooth-talking man tries to sell you on the idea that your septic tank needs cleaning and that the law says you have to have it done—tell him to go jump in the lake.

The Almanac Says the Weather this Week On...

TODAY, Thursday, September 23, will be thundery.
FRIDAY, September 24, will be stormy.
SATURDAY, September 25, will be stormy.
SUNDAY, September 26, will be stormy.
MONDAY, September 27, will be cooler.
TUESDAY, September 28, will be fair.
WEDNESDAY, September 29, will be fair and pleasant.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac is Wrong

BUT above all, the victory is most sure. For him, who, seeking faith by virtue, strives to yield entire obedience to Law Of Conscience; conscience reverenced and obeyed, As God's most intimate presence in the soul, And His most perfect image in the world.

—W. WORDSWORTH.

Come the week of September 27-October 2 the farmers of Bulloch county will join farmers in each of the state's 159 counties in observing FARM BUREAU WEEK.

We oftentimes poked gentle fun at many of the "Weeks" which clutter up a year's calendar, all promising someone's special idea or cause. "National Doughnut Week," "National Peanut Week," and scores of others—many of them most worthy "weeks."

And with the coming up of FARM BUREAU WEEK we list it with the most worthy weeks. This year, more than 62,000 families in Georgia will be made aware of FARM BUREAU WEEK. Many of Georgia's outstanding figures are lending their influence in promoting it. Senator Walter F. George says: "The farmers of Georgia should support 100 percent the Georgia Farm Bureau Federation..."

Senator Dick Russell says: "The Farm Bureau has always taken an active and leading part in the fight to protect the interests of the farmers..."

Congressman Prince H. Preston says: "Every southern farmer should be alarmed at the enactment of the recent long-range farm program..."

Acting Governor Thompson says: "It is contributing much to Georgia and to the welfare of Georgia farmers..."

Governor - Nominee Herman Talmadge says: "I am pledged to aid in every way possible the improvement of farm life in our state..."

We say: "It's good business to belong to the Farm Bureau."

HOUSING in Statesboro is as great a problem as it is in larger cities. Every day people come in our office looking for rooms, apartments, houses. Young married couples... a man with a family of five... a teacher at the college—all looking for a place to live. New homes keep going up, but there seems to be no relief for those looking for a place in which to settle.

S. J. KATZ, the new band director for the Statesboro Blue Devils Band, is completely sold on Statesboro. "The people here are the kindest and most friendly I've ever known," he told us this week. "If I didn't know I was in the South, I'd think we were being sold a bill of goods." He has some wonderful plans for the band and for music in the Statesboro schools. In addition to his work with the band, he has several classes in public school music and is directing the glee club.

He made a swell impression on the people of Statesboro at the Lions Club horse show at the airport on Thursday and Friday nights of last week—he was the trumpeter, calling the horses to the ring. We like him because he likes Statesboro and is interested in giving Statesboro music. And a community with music can't go far wrong.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Choose a Tenant

Most tenant farmers in our county have been in their homes for years—because farm owners have been careful whom they've picked.

Take Bert Childers. He chooses family men with children—the more children the better—because he's found they're stable, temperate, industrious—the kind who'll settle for a moderate glass of beer at night and be ready for a good day's work next morning.

And from where I sit, the brewers are pretty particular whom they have for "tenants" in their industries.

Mealtime Magic

TURBOTS OF FISH WITH TOMATO SAUCE

Mealtime Magic doesn't worry days at night if you'll dip away down at the bottom of the fish dish like this:

Ingredients:

6 filets (haddock, perch, cod, flounder, as desired)

2 rusks, crushed to crumbs

1 small onion, minced

6 stuffed olives, sliced

1 tablespoon minced parsley

juice of 1 lemon

3 tablespoons fortified margarine, melted

1 cup snappy mushroom tomato sauce

Sprinkle filets with salt and pepper. Make a light stuffing of remaining ingredients, excepting the tomato sauce. Spread the stuffing over surface of the filets. Roll each and tie. Place in well greased muffin tins. Slip this pan of tin into a brown paper bag closing the bag with string. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) ¾ hour. If desired, when pan is removed from paper bag, tops of fish rolls may be browned under broiler heat. Remove to serving platter and serve with tomato mushroom sauce.

For other taste-tempting recipes write today for your free copy of the two-color, 12-page recipe booklet, "Mealtime Magic," to National Cation Council, Box 18, Memphis 1, Tenn.

If doubtful about the cause of a stain in clothes or linens, always use the mildest treatment possible when removing the stain.

Large pieces in the family wash should be fastened with clothespins in three or four places to avoid strain.
